Coroner's Jury Holds Atlantic Coast Line Responsible for Accident.

WEDDING IS SECRET

Mathews Couple Marry in Norfolk-Crew of a Ship Won't , Work.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., September 11.—The coroner's jury which sat in the court-house in Portsmouth to-day to investigate the cause and to fix the responsi-bility for the accident of August 17th, places the responsibility on the Atlantic Coast Line Rallway. In investigating the cause of the death of Cumbo Atkinson, the jury returned the following ver-

"The Atlantic Coast Line Rallway Company was negligent in placing one Engineer Relg, who was unacquainted with this division of the Atlantic Const Line Rallway, in charge of said engine.

Justices R. P. Bunting and E. P Rodman, acting coroners, conducted the inquest, and Dr. R. S. Kight, of Nor-folk, with a jury from that city, sat with the other two coroners to hear the cyldence, several of the wreck vic-tims having died in the hospitals in Norfolk tims having died in the hospitals in Norfolk.

STORY OF THE WRECK.
There was an excursion train form Kinston, N. C., on which there were 159 passengers, all but a few, five or six, were colored. There were six cars to the train, and when it arrived at the drawbridge over the western branen of the Elizabeth River at noon the draw was open and the engineer drove right along and plunged into water twenty feet deep. Three of the cars went down, and two were submerged. Some of the passengers were drowned and others were crushed so that there, were sevented victims. Othern were injured and recovered at the hospitals here and returned home.

S. R. Reig, the crippled engineer of the train, who has not been out of the thospital till to-day, was the most important witness. He said that he was on this section of the road for the first time and he did not know there was a drawbridge at Bruce's station, and did not see the half mile post. He did not see the half mile post the did not see the half mile post the did not accorded to go over the road before he hald learned it as the rules require.

MARRIED SECRETLY.

Miss Bertha Hudgins and W. P. Borum of Mathews county, decided to ge married yesterday. They got a preacher, were married secretly at Winter Harbor at noon and left there for Norfolk where they are now located at 187 Bank Street. No notice was given friends or parents, and the present address of the bride and groom, as well as the fact that they are married, may be read with surprise in Mathews county, Mrs. Borum says it was "not exactly a runaway." but she makes the sintement blushingly, and says she will not go back home until Christmis.

CRE WWOULDN'T WORK.

Captain Wilbert, commanding the schooner Emelle E. Birdsail came to Norfolk to-day and reported that he was compelled to land his crew at Newport News because they sat down and refused to budge when ordered to work the vessel. He said that under the law there is no way to compel an American crew to work if the mon are disinclined, the master being not permitted to use force. to work if the men are distinctined, the master being not permitted to use force, and that therefore when his crow demanded to be put ashore he had no alternative. He came here to ship a new crow. The vessel has been detained by the adverse winds and the crow had engaged for the voyage to New York and not by the day. The delay was the loss of the men.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., September 11.—A the town of Willon, in Holly Springs Township, this county, Saturday afternooh there was a desperate shooting affair, in which two lightning-rod agents named Alken and Lendon, both from Dunn, figured. It appears from the statements brought here that both men were drinking, and that Alken attacked Lendon with a whip, whereupon the latter cut him with a pocket knife. Then Alken went into a store, procured a shotgun, pursued Lendon and shot him in the back, then caught him, threw him down and stamped him. Two men of the place, one of them S. G. Wilburn, followed Alken to save the life of Lendon, but he turned upon them and pursued thom, all, the way to Wilburn's house, where they locked themselves in Alken went around the house several times with the gun and threatened to kill them, and once put the gun through the town of Wilbon, in Holly Springs kill them, and once put the gun through and attempted to shoot a young daugh-ter of Wilhurn. The men were tried at Fuquay Springs to-day.

"Morning" and "Noon." "Morning" and "Noon."

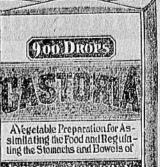

The words "morning" and "noon" once had shifting significance. It was usual in England to apply "morning" to the time before dinner. So long ago as April 16, 1796, the Hull Advertiser gave the information that "the Duke of Devonshire took a morning ride before dinner yesterday at 7 o'clock in the afternoon."

And this was a correct use of the word except that "before dinner" would seem superfluous. "Noon" once meant the ninth hour, that is, 3 P. M., at which time the "nones" were recited in the Roman Catholic Church.
